Health by Plants

In lieu of a CSA, we are doing online orders that can be picked up at our farm, the Oshkosh Market, or the Berlin Market. As products become available, we will be posting them on our ordering website. This will give customers the chance to build their own box from whatever is available on a given week, as well as pick only what they like, vs a traditional CSA which requires a larger upfront cost and less choice.

Anyone interested can contact us via email at healthbyplants@icloud.com, or through our Facebook page via private messenger . All the information is posted on our website at www.healthbyplants.com

Thanks! Dave

KT Gardens

Weekly product offerings will be posted on Facebook. Orders may be placed by sending a private message to KT Gardens via their Facebook page. Here is their link to copy and paste to the browser
